

Peninsula Transport

Peninsula Transport is the sub-national transport body, bringing together the five lead transport authorities in the peninsula – Cornwall, Devon, Plymouth Somerset and Torbay. Working closely with the Department for Transport, co-opted members and key stakeholders from the public and private sector, the partnership is responsible for defining and enabling the delivery of the strategic transport priorities for the peninsula.

